About the Artist

I'm an Idaho native who has always found joy in creating. After studying Dental Hygiene & Studio Art at Idaho State University & spending years working in Jackson, I settled in Victor with my husband & two sons, where the Tetons continue to spark my imagination.

My artwork is all about transformation. I love taking something familiar & original, whether it's wildlife, nature, music, or everyday moments, & reimagining them with bold, vibrant color to amplify their beauty. Color brings energy, movement, & emotion to each piece, turning simple subjects into something striking & full of life. I've created murals in several locations & have shown my artwork across the country, including Wyoming, Idaho, Utah, Montana, North Carolina, New Hampshire, & many more. I often hide fun positive gems in my paintings, inviting viewers to discover something new. In the white of the eye, you'll see a small silhouette of the Tetons, a reminder of the mountains that inspire my work.

Painting is my way of letting the imagination run wild & capturing that freedom in a way others can feel. If you have an idea in mind, I would be honored to create a custom piece inspired by your vision.
